

Leave No Trace Trainer Course

Leave No Trace is a nationally recognized outdoor skills and ethical preparedness program that is increasingly becoming an integral part of the Scouting program. Scouting has always emphasized conservation and environmental stewardship in its outdoor programs, however, techniques and methods have changed greatly throughout the years. As members of the Boy Scouts of America, we should strive to set a good example and be foremost in outdoor etiquette and conservation.

The LNT Trainer Course is a vital component of the Leave No Trace program. Participants receive further education in Leave No Trace skills and ethics in a two-day condensed format as well as skills and techniques for disseminating those low impact skills to others. Upon completion, participants will be registered with LNT.org as a recognized trainer and will be outfitted with training materials and resources.

Cost includes camping fees, trainer and LNT registration, food, and all training materials and handouts. Camping is available Friday night, but the course will not begin until 8:00 am on Saturday. The course will end Sunday afternoon. Overnight camping is a requirement of the course, so come prepared with the proper camping equipment and clothing for the weather. Scouts and non-Scouts are welcome.
